Project Washed Out

Steve Veliquette Day Rescheduled for Sunday

Rain washed out the Kiwanis Club's Steve Veliquette Day project Saturday but it was promptly rescheduled for Sunday.

Steve is the six-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Veliquette, of 2895 Orange, Lemon Grove. Steve has leukemia, a fatal disease that has been controlled, at least temporarily by his doctor.

Steve's Day was to have raised funds to be used by the Kiwanis Committee to help stem the dread disease. Because of Steve's doctor's success, some are hopeful that a break-through, at least in Steve's case, is near.

In spite of a continuous rainfall, youngsters turned out at the miniature golf course at Central and School Ln. where day-long door prize events were scheduled to be given.

Many were given and more are ready for Sunday when the event starts again at noon.

More than 7,000 tickets have been distributed by the Key Club. Tickets are good for free golf games and the numbers printed on them are key numbers for the door prizes.

Nothing is being sold. Any funds raised will be by free contribution either at the golf course or by depositing funds with Bob Dryden, manager of the U.S. National Bank in Lemon Grove.

The Rev. Jimmy Johnson, assistant pastor of the Skyline Wesleyan Methodist Church, is chairman of the event for the Kiwanis club. He and his committee have collected more than 50 door prizes ranging from transistor radios to pizzas.

Even though youngsters produced more than $66 Saturday, the committee hopes that adults will stop by the golf course Sunday afternoon to take part in the event.

The Key Club will again be on hand to aid participants. They had previously distributed the free tickets and from their own treasury contributed $50.

A list of contributors during the past week includes the following:

Mrs. W. E. Coleman $10
A. F. Sonka 25
Lee Thomas 1
Newton Honer 1

George Kallada 1
Terry Zitren 2
Virginia Long 3
Anonymous 50

Brookside Mothers 5
Rufus Anderson 5

Golf Course 10
C d O Floral Shop 66.68
L.G. Kiwanis Club 10
New Total 250
$754

It is expected that Sunday's project will produce enough to bring the fund up to $1,000. Rev. Johnson said. He also suggested that those who are unable to take part in any other way mail contributions to Dryden at the U.S. National Bank's Post Office Box 398.

"Nickels and dimes are acceptable," he said. "Every penny of the money is going into medicine expenses and research."

"Weather permitting, the project will pick up Sunday where it left off last week," he said.

The invitation to take part is open to all, Mr. Johnson said.

Post Offices to Stay Open Longer for Christmas Mail

Postmasters F. R. Faucher of Lemon Grove and William Fitzpatrick of Spring Valley said today in order to help the patrons of the post office get their Christmas mailings done early, the hours of window service for Dec. 10 and Dec. 17 will be 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. at the respective post offices. They announced there will be no window service on Sunday this year.

The postmasters urged, "Be sure and get your parcels and greeting cards mailed early so they can be delivered before Christmas. The use of the Zip Code on your parcels will permit them to travel faster, and by a more direct route."

"There is nothing more unpleasant for postal employees than to deliver Christmas mail after Christmas. Also some gifts will not reach their destination because they are improperly prepared, or improperly addressed. Be sure that your parcels are properly wrapped and have a legible address and Zip Code."

"Be sure and place your return address in the upper left hand corner. Enclose in your parcel a card listing the items mailed and the address of the party to whom the parcel is going."

"The new five cent Christmas stamp now is available. By using first class postage on your greeting cards you will be assured of their delivery or their return if not deliverable. Be sure and use your Zip Code—it will speed up your mail service."

Fiscal Irresponsibility is Costly

Tried to borrow any money lately? Is it costing you more and are you enjoying it less? Then it is as the real estate dealers warned you early in the fall.

At that time Uncle Sam was paying more than six per cent annual interest in order to borrow money for a short-term period. The government was paying more for money than the average citizen with reasonable credit rating.

This was fine for the citizen—for the moment. Inevitably, he would pay as taxes the higher price his government was paying for money.

What the realtors warned about—and how right they were—is that citizen borrowers soon would be paying higher interest rates.

The conclusion they arrived at was sound. As a borrower of money the U.S. government is supposed to be the A-Number One, gilt-edged prime rate customer. There should be no better security for a loan. The government guarantees repayment and this guarantee is backed by an almost unlimited power to tax. As a result, when it borrows money, the rate at which it borrows is expected to set the standard—the minimum rate—in relation to all other borrowers having lesser security. With lesser security these borrowers should pay proportionately more.

And what a payment we are paying. We're paying 10 and 11 per cent on auto loans. Don't be misled by the five and six per cent figure they use. That is added at the front and you pay it in advance. When you get to the 12th payment the interest cost is as much as the full amount cost the first month.

An explanation of the high-cost money phenomena appeared recently in REALTOR'S HEADLINES.

Here is their reasoning:
1. There has been a continuing excess of spending above income for the past 20 prosperous years by which the government has added $60 billions to debt. This was done during a productive period when the debt could have been decreased. Inability to control debt injures anyone's credit standing.

2. During these prosperous 20 years state and local governments have increased their outstanding debt by $85 billions.

3. During the same period private debt of all kinds has increased by $810 billions of which $300 billions is real estate mortgages.

4. In the same period our gold supply has dwindled from $20 billions to $14 billions, while foreign holdings of short-term credits (which can demand repayment in gold) increased to twice the gold total.

5. Military commitments in Viet Nam have increased rapidly to more than $2 billion a month.

6. Government domestic policies in four years, approved by Congress, will require annual expenditures of an additional $6 billion annually, all of which now represents borrowed money.

7. The interest cost alone of government debt has risen in 20 years from $3.6 billion to the current $12 billion.

As a result of these and other things, Uncle Sam's creditors are worrying about the purchasing power in the future dollars they lend him today. Creditors are deserting him in droves. As he bids for their money, the cost of borrowing for John Citizen goes up, too.

As with any debtor, the only answer to this dilemma is for Uncle Sam to put his house in order. That means reducing his spending or increasing his income—or both.

As with any other borrower, until his creditors see positive proof—not promises—that he is paying his bills instead of increasing his debts, his costs of borrowed money will continue to rise.

Now, three guesses as to who pays the bill for this fiscal foolishness.

Dan Ela is Peace Corps Volunteer

"a little child shall lead them"

How can a child learn to find his place in the world, and make it a better place to live? We would answer, by having the great treasures of the Bible opened up to him, and learning its lessons of love and spiritual power. That's what goes on every Sunday at the Christian Science Sunday School.

Read John 3:16-21

God sent the Son into the world, not to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him. (John 3:17, RSV)

Our text is the core of the Christmas message; it tells us the reason for the coming of Christ into the world. The Advent season prepares us for the Celebration of Jesus' birth, revealing the spiritual meaning of Christmas.

Ever since man alienated himself from God, he has felt a vacuum in his life, and he has looked for help. Jesus tells why He came: "I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly." No wonder Christmas is the most joyous season of the Christian year. During this season, however, we need to remember the selfless service of the Son of God who "came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life for a ransom for many."

God came to us in Jesus Christ to add the quality of joy to our living, to add dimensions to human personality, to motivate us to live for Him and for others. This divine help is practical and within reach of everyone who believes.

Prayer: Father of all mankind, we are grateful for the gift of Thy Son. Reveal the deeper meaning of His coming to enrich our discipleship. May He be born anew in each of our hearts. We pray in His name. Amen.

Thought for the day: God has always extended His helping hand to us; it is for us to grasp.

Helix Seniors Present 'The Glass Menagerie'

The Helix High School Senior Class will present Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" Dec. 8, 9 and 10 in the Helix Little Theater. All performances will begin at 8 p.m.

The price of tickets will be 50 cents for seniors at Helix and 75 cents for adults, other visitors and underclassmen.

Members of the cast are Terri Lerma, senior, as Laura; Chuck Shockley, senior, as Jim; Jack Baker, junior, as Tom; and Nan Bray, sophomore, as Amanda.

"The Glass Menagerie" is, perhaps, the most outstanding artistic accomplishment of Tennessee Williams to date," Mrs. Evonne Noll, Helix drama teacher, said. "This play gained acclaim for the playwright by winning The New York Drama Critics' Circle Award."

Tickets for the play may be purchased at the Helix ASB office or at the box office on nights of the performance.

Grove Soloist To Perform

George Frederic Handel's monumental oratorio, "The Messiah," will be performed Sunday by the 600-voice San Diego State College Chorus, Concert Choir of select voices, the Symphony Orchestra, and nine soloists.

Performances are scheduled at 3:15 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. in the Community Concourse's Convention Hall. Paul V. Anderson, professor of music, will conduct the symphony orchestra in the eleventh annual presentation of "The Messiah."

Carolyne McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McDaniel of 7517 Central Ave., Lemon Grove, will sing "Behold A Virgin Shall Conceive" and "He Was Despised." Miss McDaniel, a contralto, was graduated from Mt. Miguel High School where she studied music under Robert Boucher.

The White House is open to visitors daily except Sundays, Mondays and holidays.

Pass Proves Fatal For Helix Gridders

The forward pass, the same weapon that Helix High's football team had used to its advantage all season, proved fatal for Helix in its quest for the San Diego County Large Schools grid championship against Point Loma last Friday night in Balboa Stadium.

An aerial from Bill Gable to Tom Rosenthal with 1:12 left in the final period gave the Western League Pointers an 18-14 victory in the season's final grid encounter for County prep clubs.

Helix had rallied earlier in the same period to score twice on touchdown passes by senior QB Rick Edwards to take a 14-12 lead. However, the pass from Gable to Rosenthal from 17 yards out crushed the Highlanders' hopes of ending a post-season playoff jinx that has prevailed throughout the school's history.

Point Loma touchdowns in the first and third period had given the Pointers a 12-0 advantage going into the final 12 minutes of play.

Helix regained its composure in the final quarter as Edwards, who was injured on the Scotties' second series of downs, tossed 15 yards to Larry Creel and eight yards to Brian Woodford for scores. Rick Bullini's two placements put the Highlanders on top, 14-12.

However, the Pointers drove 66 yards in 10 plays, capping the drive with the TD pass.

The loss was the first of the season for the Grossmont League champions, who finished 9-1. It marked the third time they have had an undefeated season spoiled by a playoff loss.

Point Loma was winning its 10th contest against one defeat. The victory marked the first championship in three tries for the City representative.

L.G. VFW Post Presents Flag At Zoo Center

A flag presentation was held Nov. 28 at the new Elmer C. Otto Center at the San Diego Zoo.

V.F.W. Post and Auxiliary 2082 of Lemon Grove presented an American flag and the San Diego Council of Camp Fire Girls presented a California flag.

The gold-fringed silk presentation flags will be placed on the stage of the 200-seat auditorium of the new center which was formally dedicated Dec. 2. The auditorium will serve as lecture hall, classroom and meeting area for many education-oriented groups.

Community service and the promotion of Americanism are vital parts of the program of the Campfire and V.F.W. organizations.

Accepting the flags for the zoo was Frank Bonnet, chief of zoo security and Bill Seaton of the public relations staff.

The presenting organizations were represented by Mrs. Melville Aubrey, Mrs. Cherie Price and Mrs. Margaret Seffusatti for the Camp Fire Girls, and Mrs. Juliette Turner, Mrs. Virginia MacDonald and Mrs. Frances Stubbs for the V.F.W. Auxiliary 2082.

A Bedtime Story For Little Mailers

Here is a bedtime story to read to little boys and girls. It is supplied by the office of the U.S. Postmaster General. It should make interesting listening for the youngsters in the family. Mom and Pop will get a little Post Office brain washing at the same time. Try reading it to the kids and see if you don't hate the zip code numbers a little less.

Once upon a time and now there was a small owl. His name was (he thought) Who-Me because that's what he answered.

When other creatures called him and said "Hey you!" As all owls do Who-Me slept all day and was wide awake at night.

He decided to make the best of this not bad situation And got a job in the post office In charge of night letters.

All the rest of the postmen were pigeons And they handled day letters which was most of the mail Except for parcel post packages which were carried by a kangaroo.

In a special pouch. Who-Me's assistant for night letters was a bat who flew backward.

His name was Tab which spells bat backward A good name for one who flew that way. As happens every year the Christmas season arrived and every boy and girl wrote to Santa Claus.

They all mailed their letters on time And the pigeon postmen flew the mail to the North Pole Well before Christmas. But one little boy named

And one little girl. Forgot to mail their letters until Christmas Eve. Who-Me and Tab recognized this was a desperate situation. All the pigeons had gone to the annual post office Christmas party.

And only Who-Me and Tab were on duty. Who-Me took one letter, Tab, the other. They flew to the North Pole. Tab flew backward but the earth is round and he got there anyway.

Who-Me flew in the right direction straight as an owl. The mail got through and The little boy And the little girl Got everything they asked for, or very nearly.

Santa Claus reported this excellent service to the Post Master General. The Post Master General summoned Who-Me and Tab to Washington, D.C.

He read an impressive citation and gave a gold medal to Who-Me And a silver medal to Tab because he was Who-Me's assistant.

Who-Me made a thank you speech and said, all boys and girls And their mothers and fathers too, Should mail letters early especially at Christmas. And so next Christmas

That little boy And that little girl Mailed their letters to Santa Claus three weeks early And put the North Pole zip code number on their envelopes And nobody called Who-Me Hey you anymore. They said, Mr. Who-Me

And addressed him with respect.

Alfred Stern.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

A word that has been introduced to our society and adopted almost as if it were our very own is the Spanish word "Posada" (Inn).

The "Posada" has long been a part of the festive traditions of the Spanish speaking world. It originally represented the search for a "Posada" which Joseph and Mary made when they went to the city of "Belen" (Bethlehem). In Mexico the "Posada" season begins on the 16th of December and continues through Christmas Eve.

The celebration begins with one group singing the requests for lodging representing the Joseph and Mary group outside the Inn. The other group sings the part of the Innkeeper advising the couple that no lodging is available. After several requests for lodging, the Joseph and Mary group are given their entrance to the lodge and the party begins.

"Noche Buena" (Christmas Eve) is the time of the year when the most important expression is "Feliz Navidad" (MERRY CHRISTMAS).

Read over the expressions in today's lesson and practice saying them by using the phonetic guide provided after each phrase. Then dial 276-2762 on your telephone where you may practice saying the expressions with the two minute automatic recording.

Important Expressions:
Say "Feliz Navidad." (feh-LEES nah-vee-DAHD) for "Merry Christmas."
Say "Y Prospero Ano Nuevo." (ee PROHS-peh-roh AHN-yoh noo-EH-voh) for "And (A) Happy New Year."

Household Expressions:
Say "Es una posada." (ehs OON-nah poh-SAH-tah) for "It is a posada."
Say "Es Noche Buena." (ehs NOH-cheh boo-EH-nah) for "It is Christmas Eve."

Other Expressions:
Say "El is Jose." (ehl ehs hoh-SEH) for "He is Joseph."
Say "Ella is Maria." (EH-yah ehs mah-REE-ah) for "She is Mary."

Banquet of Champions Scheduled Jan. 11

The 21st annual Breitbard Athletic Foundation "Banquet of Champions" has been set for Jan. 11 at 7 p.m. in the Palm Room, U.S. Grant Hotel, O. W. Todd, Jr., Foundation board chairman announced today.

Todd said that reservations for the banquet can be made immediately by calling the San Diego Hall of Champions or the Breitbard Athletic Foundation.

"We will have tickets available soon, but we believe those who wish to be sure should indicate their desire now—last year we just couldn't handle the flood of ticket requests," Todd explained.

Nearly 800 jammed the Palm Room last year, and others who showed up without tickets could not be admitted.

Honored at the annual banquet will be California's Athlete of the Year, three new San Diego Hall of Fame members, San Diego County's 1966 amateur and professional Stars of the Month.

In addition, Todd said, the 1966 all-CIF first and second football teams and the prep coach of the year will be honored, as well as other local athletic figures who will receive special awards. Tickets are priced at $6 each for the banquet.

Spring Valley Prep Cagers Open Tourney Play Wednesday

Two Spring Valley area high school teams are set to jump into the middle of the basketball wars on Wednesday with the opening of the 20th Annual Kiwanis Pre-Season High School Basketball Tournament.

The round robin tourney will see the Mount Miguel Matadors meet the Hoover High Cardinals and the Monte Vista Monarchs meet the Mar Vista High Mariners in opening round stanzas.

The Matador-Cardinal game is set for 3 p.m. in the Mt. Miguel High gym, 1800 Sweetwater Rd. Coach Dick Ridgeway announced that his tournament squad will include Oscar Chavez, Mike Ela, Ken Greenman, Jim Grobe, Craig Guynn, Randy Hamilton, Bruce Johnson, David Lower, Blake Mathews, Tim McCarthy, Gary McCollister, Mike Padgett, Harold Phillips and David Stewart.

Opening rounder for the Monarchs and Mariners will be played in the Mar Vista High gym, 505 Elm Ave., in Imperial Beach. Coach Felix Rogers says that the Monarchs' tourney squad will include Jim Peterson, Roger Landis, Larry Pear, Mike Aird, Larry Jones, Maughn Kent, Brent Finney, Gary Gregson, Terry Standley, Rick Cotton, Paul Seeley, Dave Fienberg, John Mustol and Rich Lindy.

The annual tournament, organized in 1947 by the Kiwanis Club of San Diego, is the oldest and largest high school basketball tournament of its kind in the West, according to tournament manager Don Clarkson.

Honorary chairman of the event is Darrell Smith, one of the original organizers of the tournament.

Kiwanis Club members from throughout San Diego County will assist members of the San Diego Kiwanis Club in staging the tourney in 20 high school gyms in the area.

Finals in the two tournament divisions are set for Dec. 17 in the Peterson Gym, at San Diego State College.

A Tough Act to Follow

Norm Hutsell "It's always tough to follow a winner", or so the saying goes.

For Dave Fager, the new wrestling coach at Monte Vista High School, that will be in order this season for he is taking over the reins of an established tradition at Monte Vista: winning wrestling teams.

His predecessor, Norm Wooten, took a small group of youngsters in 1961, Monte Vista's first year, and started a winning theme that eventually meant back-to-back CIF wrestling championships the last two seasons. Wooten retired from the coaching ranks this year, entering the counseling department at the Spring Valley school.

However, Fager will have as his advantage a nucleus of lettermen to continue the winning tradition, including County prep champions Dan Kida at 98 pounds, Glen Takahashi at 130 pounds and Ned Fousek at 141 pounds.

Others returning include 115-pounder Dan Blocker, Alex Fousek (148), Ross Dell (157), Mike McCullough (183) and heavyweight John Daley. McCullough finished second in the CIF tournament last year while Daley was fourth.

Prospects Promising wrestlers include Larry Millard (141), Walter Hall (168), Brent Stoddard (115) and Richard Steeber (123).

Fager doesn't foresee any problems with the changeover in coaches, as often occur. "With such a great group of kids that work so hard, I think we will have another team that will represent Monte Vista well."

Apparently Fager is right because his 1966-67 club opened the season two weeks ago on a successful note and captured the Chula Vista Invitational Wrestling Tournament last weekend.

The Chula Vista Tournament victory returned that title to Monte Vista, the Monarchs first taking the championship in 1964.

Takahashi, who was named last year as the most outstanding prep wrestler in the County, earned "Outstanding Wrestler of the Meet" at the South Bay tourney.

Team Scores "Tako" and six other Monarch wrestlers won all four of their matches. The others were Steeber, Kida, Ned Fousek, Dell, McCullough and Daley.

Team scores had Monte Vista whipping San Diego, 52-0; Hilltop, 30-13; Grossmont, 27-16, and Helix, 30-11, in the finals.

The Monarchs will host a double dual meet this weekend. The Monarchs will take on Chula Vista while Grossmont vies against Morse in the first matches at 7 p.m. Grossmont and Monte Vista will trade opponents at 8:30 p.m. The matches will be in Monte Vista's gymnasium.

Toys to be Collected Sunday At Charger Game in Stadium

Marine Reserves and the San Diego Chargers will join forces Sunday and Dec. 18 to help provide toys for less fortunate children this Christmas.

It is part of the 19th annual Marine Reserve "Toys for Tots" drive, sponsored in San Diego County by the 4th Tank Battalion, USMCR. The drive ends Dec. 23.

Marines will be stationed at entrances to Balboa Stadium to collect new or near new toys at Sunday's game between the Chargers and the New York Jets, and the Dec. 18 contest between San Diego and Kansas City.

Meanwhile, toys may be donated at all fire stations in the city of San Diego, said Maj. Frederick M. Bates, USMCR, battalion commander.

More than 51 million toys have been donated since the program was initiated on a national basis. About 50,000 toys were contributed and distributed to needy children last Christmas in San Diego County.

With the introduction of new strains of plants, rubber production in the Congo has increased.

Geese frequently build nests atop muskrat's nests.

"We hope every San Diegan will get behind this drive so all children in the county are assured a toy this Christmas," Maj. Bates said.

Chairman of the drive is Capt. Richard D. Mangiarelli, USMCR, who said toy donations also will be accepted at the battalion headquarters, Miramar Naval Air Station, near the junction of U.S. 395 and Murphy Canyon Rd.

SD Traffic Safety Council Urges Golden Rule Observance

The December safety campaign of the San Diego County Traffic Safety Council, in cooperation with the clergy, military and other groups, is underway and will continue throughout the holidays, it was announced by Clarke Hatch of El Cajon, the Council's second vice president and chairman of the campaign.

"This is a concerted effort on the part of the clergy, military officials, and city, county and civic groups to urge motorists to observe the Golden Rule, particularly over Christmas, when we commemorate the birth of the author of the golden rule, and extending over the New Year's holiday," said Hatch.

Proclamations have been issued, declaring this period officially to be December holiday month, by Chairman DeGraff Austin, of the Board of Supervisors, and the Mayor of San Diego.

In addition, thousands of attractive mailing inserts are being sent through the mail by many San Diego City and County firms, organizations, and individuals.

Entitled "Christmas Is For Giving... and Living," the insert shows two youngsters at a Christmas tree, carrying their gifts. The admonition inside says: "It's Good To Give — It's Great To Live, so drive to stay alive this holiday season."

As part of the program, Hatch also urged motorists to "give the right of way in the true spirit of Christmas," referring to a special study made by the Safety Council that shows right-of-way and pedestrian accidents are at a higher level during the holiday season than at any other time of the year.

"Several factors contribute to this higher accident rate," said Hatch, "but usually, it's just preoccupation with holiday activities that causes drivers to forget the basic rule of right-of-way."

If two vehicles approach an intersection at about the same time, the driver on the left should give the right-of-way to the vehicle on the right, he said.

"Poor visibility from longer periods of darkness and steamed or frosted windows, and slippery streets make intersection approaches especially hazardous," added Hatch.

Pedestrians should also realize that slippery pavements make quick stops impossible and should adjust their street crossing habits accordingly.

Holiday shopping adds to the hazards. Attention is diverted from traffic by sidewalk congestion, store windows and concentration on shopping. Heavy loads of bundles often distract the pedestrian and sometimes even block his view of where he's going.
